Appoint Us

The most effective action a body corporate can take against a body corporate manager who is not performing or is incompetent is to appoint a new manager. Changing your body corporate manager is not difficult, but does require the body corporate and its committee to take proactive steps.

If you, or your body corporate are considering the appointment of a new body corporate manager, but don't know how to proceed, Richard and Marc of Meek Mercier Body Corporate Services can assist you.

We invite you to contact us to discuss the possibility of our appointment. Once contacted, we will arrange a confidential meeting at no cost to discuss your requirements.
